Literal translation of a speech delivered by the Strong Earth[,] a Chief of the Sandy Lake Indians of the Chippewa Nation to Col J Snelling on the 30th of May 1827

Father.

You know that two summers ago, we attended a Great Council at Prairie des Chiens, where by the advice of our white friends, we made a peace with the Sioux. We were then told that the Americans would guarantee our safety under your flag. We came here under that assurance; But father look at your floor, it is stained with the blood of my people, shed under your walls.

I look up & see your flag over us.
If you are a great & powerful people why do you not protect us? If not, of what use are all these soldiers?

Literal as translated L Taliaferro Ag[en]t.

Sir Rolette[']s farm July 17th 1827

I have the honor to report that a number of guns were heard immediately after our arrival here, and some Indians have been seen. Lt. Minn was dispatched with a few men to discover their number.
~~Lt Minn~~; Lt M reports that he saw none, but he complains that his sight is bad. Wendal of B company who detached himself accidentally reports that he saw five. Alcott saw two. In making my examination about the house I find that a Bee-hive has been knocked down, & a window of an out house opened, nothing more. I have the honor to be &c[etera]

Detachment Orders. Ft Crawford July 27th 1827

The present state of affairs renders it necessary that decisive steps should be taken with the vagrant Indians who infest this neighbourhood. Half breeds not claiming citizenship, & Indian women of any grade or colour not having husbands, will depart in 24 hours on pain of military execution. The commanding office is fully aware of the responsibility he incurs, and will always be ready to answer for it before a competent tribunal; but he will not suffer spies to be smuggled into his camp under the petticoats of a strumpet.

No interference will be allowed with the Civil law, and a strict obedience is commanded to the warrants of the magistrates. But vagrant Indians, either whole, or half breeds much leave the Prairie. Certificates of marriage will be requires of those females who are permitted to remain,

Keel Boat Rock Islander

Regt Orders August 6th 1827

On the arrival of the boats at the Prairie on which Wabasha's village is situated & at a place which will be indicated by the Colonel, the L[igh]t Infantry under Lt Denny with Lt Jameson as second officer will land & march in file towards the village, keeping as near as possible parallel to the boats. An advanced guard to be detailed from Lt Low's company of one Corporal & three privates, will move two hundred yards in from the of the Light Infantry. They will not attempt concealment, but go directly to the village by the common path, and inform Wabasha or any of his chiefs who may be present that although we approach in force, we have no hostile intentions. Our only object is to return to St Peters unmolested.
If the advance should be fired on, or made prisoners, Lt Denny will form his company in line in extended order and fire advancing towards the village.

The other three companies will immediately land & support him. They will form line in extended order, & whatever may be the casualties, they will advance to the houses in the village. Arrangements have been made to fire them, & it is especially enjoined on the officers & men to give no quarter, but to women & children whose persons should always be sacred in the eyes of an American soldier.

Once engaged in this enterprize [sic], courage is safety, and the misconduct of one individual may produce a panic in the whole line. It is therefore enjoined upon every officer to put to death any men who quits his rank or attempts to escape from his duty.

Seven years ago you were transferred by mutual consent with Maj Larrabee to this Corps. I was advised at the time by Genl Atkinson that it was his last hope of reforming your habits. How far you have met his expectations, is best known to yourself.

I have connived at your derilictions from duty too long. On an important expedition you have allowed the command of your company to be taken from you, when danger & honour should have been courted, & given to your 2nd L[ieutenan]t without even asking the reason why[.] Always satisfied if you had free access to the whisky bottle. In truth & candour you are no longer fit for the station you hold, & I am obliged to offer you this alternative. Resign with a year[']s furlough, or, stand a trial. With g[rea]t respect
