

100th Anniversary Issue

Wheels!

Cars and trucks revolutionized commerce and recreation. Milton Lawson posed in his North St. Paul family grocery's delivery truck. The Automobile Club of St. Paul extended an honorary membership to Governor Hammond. Leather-and-glass driving goggles (now cracked) and a young woman's linen duster bespeak both the joys and the dirt of travel in an open car.

Communications

One of the first dial phones in the Twin Cities, used by St. Paul's Tri-State Telephone and Telegraph Company from 1915 until 1937. In Pine City, telephone operator Elfie Dahl worked the switchboard at an unidentified business.

Art and leisure

Kodak Vest Pocket camera and some of its 12 accessories, including a light gauge (left foreground) and self-timer (on film box). Minnesota Boat club's "junior eight" crew team, posed on the dock. Expo souvenir celebrating completion of the Panama Canal. Twenty-two-year-old Wanda Gág's self-portrait, charcoal on paper.

If you think you may need permission, here are some guidelines:

Students and researchers

- You do not need permission to quote or paraphrase portions of an article, as long as your work falls within the fair use provision of copyright law. Using information from an article to develop an argument is fair use. Quoting brief pieces of text in an unpublished paper or thesis is fair use. Even quoting in a work to be published can be fair use, depending on the amount quoted. Read about fair use here: <http://www.copyright.gov/fls/fl102.html>
- You should, however, always credit the article as a source for your work.

Teachers

- You do not need permission to incorporate parts of an article into a lesson.
- You do need permission to assign an article, either by downloading multiple copies or by sending students to the online pdf. There is a small per-copy use fee for assigned reading. Contact us for more information.

About Illustrations

- Minnesota History credits the sources for illustrations at the end of each article. Minnesota History itself does not hold copyright on images and therefore cannot grant permission to reproduce them.
- For information on using illustrations owned by the Minnesota Historical Society, see MHS Library FAQ.
